Craftsmanship and creative programming have kept Graham Funke in the good graces of the ever-expanding nightlife community for over two decades. Based out of Los Angeles, he's performed in every major U.S. market, held DJ residencies at the most influential venues, appeared numerous times at the largest music festivals stateside, and rocked crowds in various international destinations.

His private event experience covers a wide spectrum, from media extravaganzas (Super Bowl, MTV Movie Awards, VMAs, Electric Daisy Carnival, Comic-Con), to parties for corporate giants (Amazon, Budweiser, Netflix, Red Bull, Viacom), to performances with a diverse array of hitmakers (Foo Fighters, Snoop Dogg, Zac Brown Band, Earth Wind & Fire, Nelly, Guns N' Roses, Sam Smith, Jamie Foxx, Demi Lovato, Duran Duran).

"I let my worldview define my DJing, not my DJing define my worldview," Graham Funke is fond of saying, a mantra which has birthed opportunities in a variety of adjacent spaces. He's written for various publications, starred in multiple national TV commercials, consulted on television productions, and developed a DJ-centric film project with New Regency.
